Fitch Affirms BOCOM BBM's Local Currency IDR at 'BBB-'; Upgrades Viability Rating to 'bb'

Tue 18 Jun, 2024 - 5:48 PM ET

Fitch Ratings - Rio de Janeiro - 18 Jun 2024: Fitch Ratings has affirmed Banco BOCOM BBM S.A.'s Long-Term Foreign Currency Issuer Default Rating (IDR) at 'BB+', Long-Term Local Currency IDR at 'BBB-' and Long-Term National Rating at 'AAA(bra)'. Fitch has also upgraded BOCOM BBM's Viability Rating (VR) to 'bb' from 'bb-'. The Rating Outlook on the long-term ratings is Stable.

The VR was upgraded due to an improved financial profile, higher profitability metrics, sustained asset quality ratios and high capitalization ratios in an improved 'bb' rated Operating Environment. The VR upgrade reflects BOCOM BBM's strengthened Business Profile, which now boasts a more diversified revenue stream and higher operating income. This improvement is partly due to expanded customer and product access as the bank is now part of a larger group.

KEY RATING DRIVERS

IDRs, National Ratings and Shareholder Support Rating

Moderate Probability of Support: Banco BOCOM BBM S.A.'s IDRs, National Ratings and Shareholder Support Rating (SSR) reflect support from its ultimate parent, Bank of Communications Co., Ltd. (BOCOM; A/Negative), a Chinese bank. BOCOM's Viability Rating (VR) is 'bb+'.

BOCOM BBM's Long-Term Foreign Currency IDR is five notches below BOCOM's rating and constrained by Brazil's 'BB+' Country Ceiling. The Long-Term Local Currency IDR is two notches above Brazil's Local Currency sovereign rating (BB/Stable), as Fitch does not usually assign a bank's Local Currency IDR more than one notch above its Foreign Currency IDR. This reflects Fitch's view that BOCOM's ability to provide support to its subsidiary's senior creditors is linked to Brazilian sovereign risk and might be reduced in case of extreme sovereign stress, despite the group's strategic commitment to the country.

Strategically Important: The support assessment incorporates Fitch's view that BOCOM BBM's activities in Brazil are strategically important for the parent. This was demonstrated by the group's efforts to deepen commercial activity with ordinary support in terms of funding and capital and BOCOM BBM's efforts to increase synergies and operational integration with its parent in recent years.

BOCOM owns 80% of BOCOM BBM, and the parent's IDRs are driven by the Chinese state's ownership in the bank and its systemic importance. Under Fitch's assessment, Chinese state support to BOCOM would flow through to BOCOM BBM should the need arise. BOCOM has a strong ability to provide support, as BOCOM BBM's modest size relative to the overall group is unlikely to represent a constraint.

Viability Rating

Cooler but Steady Growth: Fitch expects Brazil's economic growth to moderate to 1.5% in 2024 from 3.0% in 2023. However, banking sector performance is expected to remain broadly stable over the year. Impaired loan formation will be less intense after high inflows in a challenging 2023, while business volumes could gradually recover over the medium term amid less restrictive domestic monetary policy and a resilient labor market. This underpins Fitch's stable outlook on Brazil's 'bb' operating environment score, which is in line with the implied score for the 'bb' category.

Strengthened Business Profile: Fitch upgraded BOCOM BBM's business profile score to 'bb' from 'bb-', recognizing its advancements as a medium-sized foreign commercial bank with a core focus on corporate lending. Its market presence, in terms of total loans, is relatively modest on a national scale. However, Fitch recognizes the bank's enhanced banking franchise, which has seen a notable upturn in recent years. This progress is evidenced by the bank's successful expansion of its revenue streams over the last four years.

Conservative Risk Profile: BOCOM BBM maintains conservative underwriting standards, a reflection of the bank's cautious approach and appropriate risk-based pricing strategy. Credit risk is the main source of asset quality risk for BOCOM BBM. The bank's expanded credit risk, including corporate loan and off-balance guarantees were BRL16.3 billion at the end of March 2024 (BRL13.8 billion in March 2023 and 10.2 billion in March 2022), representing 61% of the bank's assets.

Resilient Asset Quality: Fitch upgraded BOCOM BBM's asset quality score to 'bb+' from 'bb'. BOCOM BBM has maintained better asset quality in recent years than domestic peers due to its conservative risk profile, which provides space to absorb expected deterioration from higher interest rates and Brazil's still low economic growth. The Impaired Loan average in that last four-years ended (2023-2020) was low 0.7%, and 0.9% in March 2024.

Strong Profitability: Fitch upgraded BOCOM BBM's earnings and profitability score to 'bb' from 'bb-'. Over the four years spanning 2020 to 2023, the average of operating profit to risk-weighted assets ratio was 3.2%. Core earnings have steadily strengthened in recent years, helped by growing business volumes, improving revenue mix and cost optimization measures. Fitch expects the bank will keep its profitability ratios stable for the next two years.

Adequate Capitalization: Fitch upgraded BOCOM BBM's capital and leverage score to 'bb-' from 'b+'. Capitalization levels are adequate considering BOCOM BBM's credit risk profile, well managed market risks, good capital flexibility and ordinary support from the parent. As of March 2024, the bank's Common Equity Tier 1 (CET1) Capital ratio stood at 9.7% and Basel Ratio of 16.0%. Fitch's capital assessment also considers BOCOM BBM's low capital encumbrance from unreserved impaired loans.

Stable Funding: Fitch's assessment of BOCOM BBM's funding and liquidity profile incorporates the benefits it derives from being part of BOCOM. The bank's liquidity buffers are adequate given limited forthcoming maturities.

RATING SENSITIVITIES

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Negative Rating Action/Downgrade

IDRs, SSR and National Ratings

BOCOM BBM's IDRs, National Ratings and SSR could be downgraded if BOCOM's IDRs, from which they are notched, are downgraded by multiple-notches. However, BOCOM BBM's Long-Term IDR would not be downgraded to a level below its VR.

VR

The VR could be downgraded if the recovery of the Brazilian economy suffers a severe setback, causing a material weakening of the operating environment. In this scenario, pressure could stem from rapidly rising private-sector indebtedness and permanent erosion of business prospects.

The VR could also be downgraded if, contrary to expectations, BOCOM BBM's impaired loan ratio deteriorates above 5%, resulting in earnings deterioration.

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Positive Rating Action/Upgrade

IDRs, SSR and National Ratings

BOCOM BBM's IDRs could be upgraded if Brazil's sovereign rating is upgraded, provided BOCOM BBM remains strategically important to BOCOM.

VR

There is limited rating upside at the current level of Brazil's sovereign rating.

In issuing and maintaining its ratings and in making other reports (including forecast information), Fitch relies on factual information it receives from issuers and underwriters and from other sources Fitch believes to be credible. Fitch conducts a reasonable investigation of the factual information relied upon by it in accordance with its ratings methodology, and obtains reasonable verification of that information from independent sources, to the extent such sources are available for a given security or in a given jurisdiction. The manner of Fitch's factual investigation and the scope of the third-party verification it obtains will vary depending on the nature of the rated security and its issuer, the requirements and practices in the jurisdiction in which the rated security is offered and sold and/or the issuer is located, the availability and nature of relevant public information, access to the management of the issuer and its advisers, the availability of pre-existing third-party verifications such as audit reports, agreed-upon procedures letters, appraisals, actuarial reports, engineering reports, legal opinions and other reports provided by third parties, the availability of independent and competent third-party verification sources with respect to the particular security or in the particular jurisdiction of the issuer, and a variety of other factors. Users of Fitch's ratings and reports should understand that neither an enhanced factual investigation nor any third-party verification can ensure that all of the information Fitch relies on in connection with a rating or a report will be accurate and complete. Ultimately, the issuer and its advisers are responsible for the accuracy of the information they provide to Fitch and to the market in offering documents and other reports. In issuing its ratings and its reports, Fitch must rely on the work of experts, including independent auditors with respect to financial statements and attorneys with respect to legal and tax matters. Further, ratings and forecasts of financial and other information are inherently forward-looking and embody assumptions and predictions about future events that by their nature cannot be verified as facts. As a result, despite any verification of current facts, ratings and forecasts can be affected by future events or conditions that were not anticipated at the time a rating or forecast was issued or affirmed. Fitch Ratings makes routine, commonly-accepted adjustments to reported financial data in accordance with the relevant criteria and/or industry standards to provide financial metric consistency for entities in the same sector or asset class.

The complete span of best- and worst-case scenario credit ratings for all rating categories ranges from 'AAA' to 'D'. Fitch also provides information on best-case rating upgrade scenarios and worst-case rating downgrade scenarios (defined as the 99th percentile of rating transitions, measured in each direction) for international credit ratings, based on historical performance. A simple average across asset classes presents best-case upgrades of 4 notches and worst-case downgrades of 8 notches at the 99th percentile.
